Xplore Federal Credit Union Offering Free Online Financial Literacy Program

NEW ORLEANS, LA (November 6, 2020) — Xplore Federal Credit Union is excited to announce their new, free online financial literacy program. This educational program will be two-fold, including a devoted website for the entire community as well as a school program providing financial literacy curriculum to select schools. Xplore FCU's education website is now live! This website is a robust research outlet accessible to anyone in the community to assist them in attaining financial success with online games, virtual coaching, articles, and calculators.

"We know that these financial literacy programs are needed within our community. They will allow for a deeper engagement with our members by helping them find financial success," said Michael Roussel, Jr., Marketing Director of Xplore FCU. Mr. Roussel continued, "We are very excited to launch the school program by sponsoring Warren Easton, and the community program by sponsoring Own Your Story: Teen Financial Literacy Program."

Xplore FCU's school program entails providing select local schools with their own free virtual courses to add to their curriculum. With three different courses for teachers to choose, students at any age can learn how to manage a budget, save money, and buy a home. The school program includes a dashboard for teachers to view student participation and grades, order course materials, and request additional support from Xplore, such as financial presentations.
